DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1 to 6 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

3. Claims 1 to 6 and 10 provide for the use of an alloy to make kitchen utensils, but, since the claim does not set forth any steps involved in the method/process, it is unclear what method/process applicant is intending to encompass. A claim is indefinite where it merely recites a use without any active, positive steps delimiting how this use is actually practiced.

Claims 1 to 6 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed recitation of a use, without setting forth any steps involved in the process, results in an improper definition of a process, i.e., results in a claim which is not a proper process claim under 35 U.S.C. 101. See for example Ex parte Dunki, 153 USPQ 678 (Bd.App. 1967) and Clinical Products, Ltd. v. Brenner, 255 F. Supp. 131, 149 USPQ 475 (D.D.C. 1966).

Double Patenting

4. Claim 6 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate of claim 10. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k).

5. Claims 6 and 10 recite the use of an alloy to make kitchen utensils wherein the alloy is in accordance with SUS 436L.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1 to 8 and 10 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 1 to 8 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Japanese patent 10-121205 (hereinafter JP'205)

9. The English abstract of JP'205 discloses using a ferritic steel alloy to make kitchen appliances which would be equivalent to kitchen utensils as recited by the claims, whereby said steel has a composition with constituents whose wt% ranges overlap those recited by the claims; and such overlap establishes a prima facie case of obviousness because it would be obvious for one skilled in the art to select the claimed alloy wt% ranges over the broader disclosure of the prior art since the prior art teaches the same utility.

10. Even though JP'205 alloy contains the additional elements, P, S and Al, such would not be excluded by the recited limitation "consisting of" since they are listed as optional elements with a lower limit of zero and therefore can be omitted.

11. Claims 1 to 8 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US Patent 3,201,231 (hereinafter US'231).

12. US'231 discloses on lines 42 to 45 and lines 63-72 in column 1 discloses using a ferritic steel alloy to make kitchen utensils, whereby said steel alloy has a composition with constituents whose wt% ranges overlap those recited by the claims and such overlap establishes a prima facie case of obviousness because it would be obvious for one skilled in the art to select the claimed alloy wt% ranges over the broader disclosure of the prior art since the prior art teaches the same utility.

13. Even though US'231 contains the additional elements, P and S, such would not be excluded by the recited limitation "consisting of" since they are listed as incidental impurities with a lower limit of zero and therefore can be omitted.

Conclusion

14. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).
